EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy, Wildlife and Fisheries Science
Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, December 1998
Dissertation: Multicriteria Index of Delphi-Assessed Sustainability

Masters of Science, Natural Resource Economics, Minor: Fisheries
Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, December 1994
Thesis: A Bioeconomic Analysis of Fish Production in Closed Systems

Bachelors of Science, Agricultural Business
Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, May 1988

EMPLOYMENT

Martin D. Woodin Endowed Professor, Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness, Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2018 -
present.

Donald E. Welge Endowed Professor, Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness, Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2016 -
present.

Professor, Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness, Louisiana State University
Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2008 - present.

Director, Marine Extension Program, Louisiana Sea Grant College Program and Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2011 – Present.

Interim Director, Marine Extension Program, Louisiana Sea Grant College Program and Louisiana
State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2006 – June 2007.

Director, Center for Natural Resource Economics and Policy, Department of Agricultural Economics &
Agribusiness, Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, La, January 2002 - present.

Associate Professor (75% Extension, 25%Research), Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness, Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 2002 – June 2008.

Assistant Specialist (100% extension), Wetland and Coastal Resources, Economics and Natural Resources Division, Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, Louisiana State University Agricultural Center, Baton Rouge, October 1998 – June 2002

Graduate Teaching Assistant, School of Renewable Natural Resources, Louisiana State University,
Baton Rouge, LA, 1995 - 1998

Owner and USGC Captain, Imperial Charters, Inc. Baton Rouge, LA, 1994-1999.

Graduate Research Assistant, Department of Agricultural Economics, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, LA, 1992 - 1994

Research Associate, Louisiana Sea Grant College Program, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, 1991-1992

Assistant Director, Environmental Programs Division, Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, 1991

Technical Services Coordinator, Aquaculture Technologies Ltd., Lafayette, Louisiana, 1988 –1991

Offshore roustabout, Gulf of Mexico, Taylor Energy Company, New Orleans, La, 1984 –1988

Student worker, LSU Center for Wetland Resources, Baton Rouge, La, 1985-1986

Student worker, LSU Agricultural Experiment Station, Baton Rouge, La, 1980-1983

TEACHING

Graduate Courses

AGEC 8000: Graduate Research Advising (Instructor)
Spring, Summer, Fall 2002-2017, Louisiana State University

AGEC 7703: Advanced Topics, Natural Resource Economics (Instructor) Independent Study,
Spring 2020, Fall 2014, Spring 2006, Summer 2004, 3 credit hours, Louisiana State University

AGEC 7700: Graduate Internship (Instructor)
Spring 2004, Summer 2006, Summer 2010; 3 credit hours, Louisiana State University

AGEC 7710: Wetland Policy (Instructor)
Fall 2001, 3 credit hours, Louisiana State University

FISH 7029: International Perspectives on Sustainability (Co-instructor)
Spring 1997, 2 credit hours, Louisiana State University

FISH 7029: Fisheries/Aquaculture Economics (Co-instructor)
Fall 1996, 2 credit hours, Louisiana State University

FISH 4022: Principles of Aquaculture (Co-instructor and Graduate Teaching Assistant)
Spring semesters: 1995-2001, Louisiana State University.

Guest Lecturer (LSU)

OSC 4465: Coastal Zone Management (Spring 2015-2020)

RNR 2039: Introduction to Renewable Natural Resource Policy (Fall 2001-2019)

CE 7701: Coastal & Ecological Engineering Design (Spring 2016)

RNR 7007: Policy Considerations for the Management of Natural Resources (Fall 2014)

Student Internships (Advised and Coordinated)

Hua Wang, Economic Assessment of Rapid Land-Building Technologies for Coastal Restoration, NOAA-Northern Gulf Institute, Summer 2010.

Jess Mosmar, Wetlands: Comparative Analysis of State, National, and Wetland Policies, Senior Intern Project, Zamorano Pan-American School of Agriculture, Spring 2008.

Ryan Bourriaque, Coastal Restoration Division, Spatial Economics of Wetland Mitigation Banking, Louisiana Department of Natural Resources, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Summer 2006.

Alex Prochaska, Environmental Protection Agency, New Orleans, Louisiana, Spring 2004

Cliff Watts, Coastal Restoration Division, Louisiana Department of Natural Resources, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Summer-Fall 2003.

COLLABORATION WITH OTHER FACULTY

Marine Extension Project (MEP)

In 1998, I was appointed as the state extension specialist in wetland and coastal resources for the LSU AgCenter and the Louisiana Sea Grant College Program. In the past two decades I have collaborated with faculty and staff on dozens of conferences and educational programs, 200+ extension and research publications, and 300+ presentations pertaining to coastal resource management, policy, and marine economics.

In July 2011, I was appointed Director of the Marine Extension Program (MEP) for the Louisiana Sea Grant College Program. In this capacity, I administer an annual operations budget of approximately $400,000, coordinate quarterly meetings and communications, and provide administrative support for 16 subject matter specialists and coastal agents of the MEP.

Center for Natural Resource Economics & Policy (CNREP)

In 2002, I became the founding director of the LSU Center for Natural Resource Economics and Policy (CNREP). The center fosters the interaction of socioeconomic professionals to address natural resource and environmental challenges in Louisiana in the broader Gulf of Mexico region. CNREP currently has 30 active members and affiliates at universities and resource management agencies throughout the U.S. In the past 20 years, CNREP faculty located on the LSU campus have partnered with 50 public and private institutions in support of more than 100 individual research projects. My research focuses primarily on applications of economic valuation, project feasibility and cost-benefit analysis in coastal resource management and restoration.

In 2004, 2007, 2010, 2013, 2016 and 2019 I chaired the national research conference: Challenges of Natural Resource Economics & Policy. This triennial forum has become a primary venue for the presentation of socioeconomic research in coastal regions of the United States and abroad. The 2019 program featured 162 technical presentations from attendees representing 65 public and private institutions located in 22 U.S. states and five countries. To date, more than 40 public and private entities have provided direct and in-kind sponsorships for CNREP forums.
